SpanishThe Duke and Duchess of Sussex have finally accepted their place in the royal family and decided to become the latest royal couple to tie the knot in Sussex. Prince Harry and Meghan announced their engagement a little over a year ago, in May 2018, when she accepted his proposal in Canada. The couple got engaged on a private holiday to Ireland after meeting at a fundraiser for bushfires in Australia and has kept the details of their wedding planning under wraps until the day of the wedding. We can tell you one thing: Kensington Palace will be hiring a boatload of florists as they are well aware that there will be thousands of different flower arrangements for the big day. The couple tied the knot at St George's Chapel at Windsor Castle on May 19, 2018. After exchanging vows, they shared a kiss and Harry said, "I love you." There was no honeymoon for the new royal couple as they instead opted to jet off to Canada to visit Canadian former Prime Minister Justin Trudeau and his family. Instagram Queen Elizabeth As their first official engagement as a married couple, the couple spent some time looking into newborn baby names. They have already looked into the DNA of the future prince and princess of Cambridge to see if it might be linked to any famous royal figures. The pair also choose to name the boy Archie Harrison Mountbatten-Windsor in honour of the Queen's late father, Prince Philip. Following their engagement, the couple shared a kiss on a balcony in Windsor, when she said 'I love you'. She was visibly surprised when asked about it by the press. "I was just going with it, I'm not that kind of girl," she said. "It was really fun and it was just sort of... I don't know, it just felt good," Instagram She added "At the time, I was just kind of in shock like everybody else. I think there was a few seconds when I did think 'Is it really real?' And then [Harry] just looked at me and he just repeated it." The couple would like to have a big wedding, but they have kept details of the extravaganza under wraps. .@maryhoover & @ClarenceHouse ahead of today's Royal Wedding.
